

Voice Case Information System (VCIS)

1-800-326-5879

What is VCIS? (pronounced “vee-sis”)

VCIS allows you to call the U. S. Bankruptcy Court’s computer from any touch-tone telephone and hear the following information read to you by a computer-synthesized voice:

- Case number.
- Name of debtors or principal adversaries.
- Case filing date.
- Case chapter.
- Last four (4) numbers of social security number or the tax identification number.
- Name of debtor’s attorney.
- Telephone number of debtor’s attorney.
- Name of trustee.
- Name of judge.
- Discharge and closed dates.
- Status of case (such as whether plan has been confirmed).
- Whether or not the case has assets.
- First meeting of creditors date and location.
- Deadlines for filing proofs of claim.
- Disposition of case.

What is the charge for using VCIS?

This service is provided free of charge.

When is the service available?

You may call 7 days a week, 24-hours per day.

How current is the information?

Since it is retrieved from the court’s live database, the information reported is the most current available.

How do I use VCIS?

When you call the VCIS number shown above, the computer will answer the telephone and provide you with detailed instructions. To effectively use the system please have information available before calling.

The following options are available on the VCIS menu:

- To hear instructions, press 1.
- To search by case number, press 2.
- To search by participants name, press 3.
- To search by participants social security number or tax identification number, press 4.

The system reports case information for 10 participants or cases per call.